Admin/Biographical History:

Family Origins

The Lisrenny estate where the Filgate family settled in the seventeenth century originally belonged to a branch of the Bellews of Castletown, Dundalk. It had been seized from the Bellews during the English Commonwealth confiscations of 1653. As the estate was situated within the barony of Ardee, it became part of the land grant that was made to English Commonwealth ex-soldiers who had service in Ireland prior to 1649. Many of these ex-soldiers came from families who had been settled in Ireland during the seventeenth century or earlier. A William Peppard or Pepper, was the ex-soldier who was granted Lisrenny (Harold O'Sullivan, A History of Local Government in the County of Louth, IPA, Dublin, 2000, p132-3). The Peppard or Pepper family claimed descent from Gilbert de Pippard who founded Ardee after the Hugh de Lacy Norman conquest in the twelfth century. Peppard's daughter and heir, Anne, married a William Filgate in 1665 whose family seem to have originally been from Shrewsbury in England. Filgate's father, also called William, was a Cromwellian officer married to Anne Storey of Lancashire, who had settled at Lisrenny (see item PP00001/002/002/001 for a Filgate genealogy). However, the Filgates Irish connections may have originated from a Samuel Filgate who was a fellow commoner in Trinity College, Dublin in 1638/9 aged about 16 (Rev Guy WC L'Estrange, Notes and Jottings concerning the parish of Charlestown Union in the County of Louth, Chapter 2 (The Filgate Family), Rectory Press, Charlestown, 1912, p34).

Upon the marriage of William and Anne in 1665, the lands of Lisrenny were confirmed by patent of Charles II (1666) in trust for William Peppard's son-in-law, William Filgate. William and Anne had a son William (1666-1721) who married a Mary Smart in 1694, was elected a burgess of Ardee on 12th September 1710, and was appointed one of the two Portreeves (mayors) of Ardee in 1717. William's son Alexander (1702-71) who succeeded him married an Elinor Byrne (d1799) in 1739. Alexander was in turn succeeded by his son William (1740-1816) who in 1770 married his cousin Anne Filgate (d1804), daughter of Thomas Filgate (1704-1785) of Ardee. Another son of Alexander, Townley Patten (1753-1828) of Lowther Lodge, Dublin and Drumgoolestown, Louth, was called to the Bar in 1776. He married first Miss Maxwell in 1788, and second Martha Wrightson in 1797. Townley's daughter Ellen married a George Macartney, JP, DL, MP in 1828 whose son assumed the surname of Filgate by Royal Licence in 1862.

The Filgate Family, c1804 – 1916

William (1740-1816) and Anne (d1804) Filgate's sons Alexander (1771-1827), Thomas (1773-1830) and William (1781-1875) successively inherited Lisrenny. A fourth son, Townley (1784-1822), who married Isabella Ruxton, daughter of William Ruxton of Ardee House, MP, in 1809, was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree from Trinity College Dublin in 1804, a Master of Arts in 1812, and he became Curate of Charlestown from 1807-16 where he then became Vicar (see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/004/004/). Thomas Filgate (1773-1830) was a barrister-at-law and treasurer of the Grand Jury from 1823-30 (possibly earlier, no earlier than 1818), while William (1781-1875) was a Justice of the Peace for Counties Louth and Monaghan, treasurer of the Grand Jury from 1854-69, and High Sheriff in 1832. He married Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis (1807-1886) in 1831, daughter of Jerome Count de Salis. Their eldest son, William de Salis (1834-1916), was appointed Captain of the Louth Militia in the 1850s (Crimean and Indian Mutiny campaigns), Justice of the Peace in 1859, Deputy Lieutenant in 1872, and High Sheriff in 1879. He served as chairman of the Ardee Board of Guardians and was elected the first chairman of Ardee Rural District Council in 1898. He was also elected an ex-officio member of Louth County Council from 1899 until his death in June 1916. He was Churchwarden of Charlestown in 1857, 1862, 1866, 1868, 1869, 1872, and from 1874 – 1911 (possibly longer). William de Salis Filgate developed an interest in cricket while at school in Rugby, England, however, he took up the opportunity to become Master of the Louth Hounds in 1860, a position which he held until 1912. In 1912, Rev Guy WC L'Estrange, Rector of Charlestown wrote in his 'Notes and Jottings concerning the parish of Charlestown union in the county of Louth' (p37-38) that Captain William de Salis Filgate celebrated his Jubilee as Master of the Louth Hounds in 1910 and was presented with his portrait painted by WR Symonds. L'Estrange wrote 'in hunting, as in everything else which he undertakes, his actions are marked by that thoroughness which is characteristic of the man. He has had the unique experience that during those fifty years, he never missed a day the hounds were out either cubbing or regular hunting, and he never altered a meet to suit his own convenience. His popularity with the country people is unbounded; and whilst almost every other pack in Ireland was obliged to stop hunting during the Land League agitation of 1881-1882, the Louth Hounds were not interfered with in any way.' In 1870, he married Georgiana Harriet French (d1927), eldest daughter of the late William John French, of Ardsallagh, Co Meath, and had two daughters: Violet Evelyn Sophia, and Eileen Georgina (b1879) who married Richard Alexander Baillie Henry of Rathnestin on 6th August 1902.

William and Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis Filgate's fifth son born in 1846, Townley Fane, successfully canvassed for the position of secretary to the Louth Grand Jury in 1875, after Alexander Shekleton had resigned as secretary due to ill-health. His support came mainly from the landowners of intermediate rank, many of whom were Roman Catholics. Townley Fane also became the first secretary to the new Louth County Council in 1898, an appointment which seems to have been well received at the time, thus showing how popular the Filgate family was in their locality. 'He resided at Lisrenny from whence each morning he travelled by pony and trap to Ardee railway station and then by train to Dundalk, making the return journey each evening after work. He continued to make this journey each day until his retirement' (Harold O'Sullivan, A History of Local Government in the County of Louth, IPA, Dublin, 2000, p132).

When Townley Fane was forced to retire in 1913 due to ill-health, he had been secretary of the Grand Jury and the County Council for almost forty years. He passed away shortly after his retirement in September 1913, and a death notice in Tempest's Annual 1914 described him as 'a master of detail... a faithful servant, an invaluable public official and a sincere friend'. 'Promptitude and regularity of life were his chief characteristics'. He was also 'an official of the people and for the people who facilitated the Council in every possible way and used his knowledge of public affairs in the county with honour to himself, benefit to the public and credit to the Council' (Tempest's Annual, 1914, p2). His death notice in the Dundalk Democrat noted that 'in his native district Mr Townley Filgate, like all members of his family, was most popular with all classes, and by none is his death more deeply regretted than by the people of the district, to whom he had been for so many years a kindly and generous neighbour' (Dundalk Democrat, 13th September 1913).

Lisrenny

Lisrenny House, home of the Filgates, was built between 1788 and 1798, at Lisrenny (meaning: fort of the ferns) in the parish of Tallanstown, County Louth. The Filgate family home at Lisrenny was a typical 'Big House' consisting of a three storey mansion surrounded by an extensive and well-planted demesne where labourers would have been employed to work the household farm. In Samuel Lewis' 'Topographical Dictionary of Ireland' (1837, p588) it states that two of the principal seats in Tallanstown included Lisrenny, home of William Filgate (1781-1875), and Arthurstown, home of Thomas William Filgate (d1846). It describes Lisrenny as 'a handsome residence in an extensive and well-planted demesne, and the grounds and hedge-rows are exceedingly well kept' while it describes Arthurstown as also being 'a handsome residence'. Both in Lisrenny and Arthurstown, a school was built by the Filgates to accommodate approximately 80 children between them. The Dictionary also noted that in Tallanstown 'agriculture has greatly advanced, the resident gentry and farmers having exerted themselves to introduce the improved system both in the cultivation of land and in the rearing of cattle'.

Archival History:

The papers contained in this collection were compiled by the Filgate family, and presumably were held in the family until they were purchased at auction by Noel Ross on 30th June 1973 (accession P/00001) and on 11th May 1974 (accession P/00014). The collection was largely deposited in two lots by Noel

Ross in Louth County Archives Service in April 2001. The photographs contained in reference PP00001/004/012/002 were donated by C Delaney in June 2003 (accession P/00077). They were found in a writing desk that was purchased at auction. Leonard Hatrick donated the National Savings certificates book listed as reference PP00001/004/013 in August 2005 (accession P/00151). Two items: PP00001/003/002/001 and PP00001/004/012/004 were deposited by the County Louth Archaeological & Historical Society in May 2009 (accession P/00281). A quantity of rentals and accounts in sub-fonds PP00001/001/ relating to the Foster and Doyne estates were transferred from Louth County Library in June 2009 (accession P/00297). These had been purchased at an auction in Charlestown Rectory, Ardee by Noel Ross on behalf of the County Library.

Fonds Content & Structure

Scope & Content:

The Filgate of Lisrenny Papers comprises papers relating to the Filgate family of Lisrenny, County Louth and their estate; landowners for whom the Filgates acted as land agents for in the nineteenth century such as the Foster family of Glyde Court and Philip Doyne; and the Grand Jury in which the Filgates were active in. Unfortunately the Papers do not constitute a complete collection of the Filgate family estate records. However, the Papers contain a wealth of information for family historians and genealogists, particularly under the first two sub-fonds which contain a quantity of rentals listing the names of tenants and their rent payments and terms (see the Filgate as land agents sub-fonds PP00001/001/ and the Filgate family estate sub-fonds PP00001/002/). Included also are several letters portraying the hardship experienced by tenants during the period of the Land War: see item PP00001/001/005/003/002 (5) for an example. Estate records are an important source of information for local history, offering an insight into the social and economic conditions of the time through accounts, surveys and legal documents, and sometimes containing information which cannot be found elsewhere such as the names of tenants. A moderate quantity of items in the collection relate to the administrative and political history of Louth. These can be found in the Grand Jury sub-fonds PP00001/003/ and in the election posters sub-fonds PP00001/005/. Appointments to positions of public office and attendance at Grand Jury meetings are detailed and there is a small quantity of material relating to accounts. It was common for landlords to serve the State as local magistrates or justices of the peace, on the Grand Jury or on the local Poor Law Board of Guardians. Several of the Filgates served as treasurer of the Grand Jury while William de Salis Filgate (1834-1916) occupied a number of public positions in the latter half of the nineteenth century, and his brother Townley Fane Filgate (1846-1913) served as secretary to both the Grand Jury and Louth County Council for almost forty years: for his election as secretary in 1875 see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/003/006/. The Grand Jury material in this collection complements the Grand Jury collection held by Louth County Archives Service (collection reference GJ/) and provides an insight into the daily operation and economic circumstances of this nineteenth century local authority. The Filgate family personal papers forms one of the collection's smaller sub-fonds (reference PP00001/004/), however, the variety of items available provide a glimpse at the social conditions of the time from volumes containing sermons, recipes, or jokes, to personal account books, material relating to cricket matches, the Louth Hunt, Ardee Steeplechase Races, and invitations. The following is a breakdown of the contents of each sub-fonds:

The first sub-fonds in this collection consists of leases and other legal documents, a rent roll, survey of lands, valuations, and accounts relating to the Foster estate (1792 – 1896); leases of Blayney Balfour of Townley Hall (1820 – 1829); rentals and accounts of the estate of Philip J Doyne (1824 – 1868); estimates and correspondence relating to Killanny Mill (1852 – 1853); a list of principal landholders and a list of the poor residing in the parish of Tallanstown (1820s); and a valuation of Rathnestin [1881 – 1897].

The second sub-fonds in this collection contains legal deeds (1801 – 1859) and accounts relating to the Filgate estate (1757 – 1883) including rents paid by Filgate, labourers accounts, payment of staff, a valuation of Filgate's estate in 1853 (PP00001/002/002/015), and a statement of liabilities dated 6th April 1849 (PP00001/002/002/007); Filgate genealogical details from 1649 – 1846 (PP00001/002/002/001); rentals, arrears and grazing accounts relating to the estate (1842 – 1854) – rentals include lists of tenants names, details of annual rent, and valuations; farm returns, and records of farm stock bought and sold (1763 – 1768, 1839 – 1914).

The third sub-fonds in this collection contains accounts of the Louth Grand Jury and correspondence regarding returns of the Louth Grand Jury (1823 – 1830); material regarding appointments and attendance of members of Louth Grand Jury (1819 – 1885); accounts of Alexander Shekleton, secretary of Louth Grand Jury (1825 – 1829); correspondence and subscriptions from Grand Jury members regarding Alexander Shekleton's testimonial on his resignation as secretary of the Grand Jury (1875 – 1876); correspondence regarding the election of secretary to the Louth Grand Jury (1875).

The fourth sub-fonds in this collection contains volumes containing sermons, recipes and jokes written or collected by the Filgate family and small keepsakes (1785 – pre-1879, 1917 - 1923); will of Elenor Filgate (1791); certificates received by Townley Filgate (1804 – 1812); date of birth details of William Filgate's family 1695 – 1716; invitations received by the Filgate family (pre-1833, 1857 – 1964); meeting notices of the Northern Rangers (1844 – 1845); payments book for the 'Louth hounds' and notices of the Louth Hunt and Ardee Steeplechase Races (1864 – 1893); account of monies given to Charles Roden Filgate on his preparing for the Bar (1869 – 1872); material regarding cricket matches such as scoring books (1877 – 1901 (1918)); a small quantity of photographs (no date); and a National Savings certificates book (1940).

The fifth sub-fonds contains four mid-late nineteenth century election posters (1852 – 1874).

System of Arrangement: As there was no clear original arrangement the archivist arranged the collection in five main divisions or sub-fonds which were further arranged into numerous sub-sub-fonds as detailed below. Within each sub-sub-fonds, items have generally been arranged in chronological order as far as possible. There are different variations of placename spellings. Normally the spelling on the document has been used.

Notes: Glossary:
Coinage: Prior to decimalisation in 1971, the pound was divided into 20 shillings each of 12 (old) pence. Using the example of five shillings and sixpence, the standard ways of writing shillings and pence were: 5s 6d or 5/6, or 5/- meant for five shillings only with the dash standing for zero pennies. The abbreviation for the old penny, d, was derived from the Roman denarius, and the abbreviation for the shilling, s, from the Roman solidus. The shilling was also denoted by the slash symbol, also called a solidus for this reason, which was originally an adaptation of the long s. There were 20 shillings to a pound, 12 pence to a shilling, and 4 farthings to a penny.

Head rents: where a sub-tenancy (or series of sub-tenancies) exists, the highest leaseholder in the chain pays head rent to the freeholder
Incumbrance: charges against a property

Reference Code: PP00001/001/
Title: Filgates as land agents
Dates: 1792 - 1896, [1897]
Level of Description: Sub-fonds
Extent: 202 items
Name of Creator(s): Filgates as land agents

Admin/Biographical History:

Land agents were often appointed by landlords who usually lived elsewhere to carry out the day to day management of their estate such as the setting and collection of rents or ensuring that conditions made in the leases with tenants were being met such as the planting of certain crops or improvements to the holding. The Filgates acted as land agents for absentee landlords such as Sir Frederick George Foster, 2nd baronet, the Reverend Cavendish Foster, 3rd baronet and Philip Doyne, esquire. For this reason, there is a quantity of rentals, accounts, surveys, leases, and other legal documents in the collection relating to these estates covering the period 1792 – 1896 for the Foster estate and 1824-68 for Doyne's estate (see sub-fonds PP00001/001/). The estate of the Foster family of Glyde Court had stemmed from the Reverend Dr Thomas Foster, rector of Dunleer, who had acquired land at Haggardstown, Rathbrist, and Shanlis in the 1750s and 1760s. He acquired the lease on Monasterboice, and the 700 acre manor of Killanny was acquired from 1763 on a series of long leases from the Provost and Fellows of Trinity College, Dublin (for one of these leases, see item PP00001/001/003/002), while Stonehouse, Dunleer, was purchased around 1787. Dr Thomas Foster's son, John Thomas Foster who had married Lady Elizabeth Hervey, had two children, Frederick Thomas of Stonehouse (b1777) and Augustus John of Glyde Court (1780-1848): see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/001/001/ and PP00001/001/003/ respectively. Sir Augustus Foster who was made the 1st baronet of Glyde Court in September 1831 purchased Philipstown, Mosstown, Rathescar, Gunstown and Lismanus in 1832. He was succeeded in his baronetcy by his eldest son Frederick George (1816-1857) who was succeeded in turn by his brother Reverend Cavendish (1817-1890): see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/001/004/ and PP00001/001/005/ respectively. John William Foster of Rosy Park (1745-1809) also features in this collection through several leases concerning land in Rathbrist: see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/001/002/. He was a 2nd cousin of the two brothers Frederick and Augustus Foster and resided at Rosy Park which adjoined Rathbrist. Rosy Park was a late eighteenth century house built approximately 1780, that later became Glyde Court. It was altered and extended from 1843-68 in Jacobean style. Much of the material in the Filgate Family collection (see sub-fonds PP00001/001/) concerns the Foster estate in the townlands of Rathbrist, Mosstown, Lismanus, Philipstown, Lisrenny, Monasterboice, Drogheda, Rathescar, Pepperstown, Stonehouse, Prieststown, Puckstown, Groome, Stiffians, Shanlis, and Baltrasna, in addition to land in the parishes of Killanny and Haggardstown in County Louth, Cormey in County Cavan, and land in the parishes of Ardagh and Enniskeen in County Meath.

Thomas William Filgate (d1868) was land agent for Philip J Doyne, esquire, who owned land in Cappoge (Capog), Coneyburrow (Connyberry or Connaberry), [Cangy?], and Ballymageragh and the collection therefore contains rentals and accounts dating from 1824-68: see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/001/008/. The collection also contains three leases dating to the 1820s for the Mosstown area relating to Blayney Balfour of Townley Hall: see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/001/006/. The reason for these leases being in the collection is that Balfour was the original lessor of lands in Mosstown as can be seen from a document containing particulars of leases of lands of Augustus John Foster (see item reference PP00001/001/003/004). Mosstown was purchased by Augustus John Foster in 1832.

Scope & Content:

This sub-fonds contains material relating to Filgate acting as an agent for landowners, 1792 – 1875. It contains rent rolls, rent accounts, surveys and legal documents of the Foster estate in Counties Cavan and Louth and of Philip J Doyne's estate in Co Louth; leases including one of Trinity College Dublin for land in Killanny, County Louth (PP00001/001/003/002); surveys of lands and holdings at Balregan, Killanny, Stonehouse, Dromard, and Phillipstown; valuations including Blackrock farm, Lismanus, Mosstown North, Mosstown South, Puckstown, and Rathneestin (Rathneestin); receipts of the estate of

Philip J Doyne; a list of the principal landholders and a list of poor residing in the parish of Tallanstown; letters from James Shekleton, Dundalk Iron Works, and estimates for building a kiln at Killanny.

Title: Material relating to the Foster estate and Reverend Cavendish Foster, third baronet

Date(s): 1857 – 1896

Level of Description: sub-sub-fonds

Extent: 62 items

Name of Creator(s): Reverend Cavendish Foster, third baronet

Admin/Biographical History: Reverend Cavendish Hervey Foster of Glyde Court (1817 – 1890), 3rd baronet, son of Sir Augustus John Foster 1st baronet, and brother of Sir Frederick George Foster 2nd baronet, married 1844 Isabella Todd (d1881).

Reverend Cavendish Foster resided near Epping in Essex and was an absentee landlord who left the running of his estate to his agents William de Salis Filgate and [Thomas William Filgate of Tullykeel, Ardee].

Up until the 1870s the majority of people elected Liberals and Conservatives as their MPs. However, in the 1870s, a former Conservative turned nationalist campaigner, Isaac Butt, established the Home Rule League. The Home Rule Movement sought the repeal of the Act of Union of 1800 by a demand for self-government within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. Foster did not support the Home Rule movement and thus issued an anti-Home Rule poster in 1874 (see item PP00001/005/003). However, the 1874 general election saw the nationalists in the Home Rule Party become the first significant third party in Parliament. The results of the 1874 election saw two nationalists or Home Rulers returned for the county for the first time. The results were: Alexander Martin Sullivan (Home Rule) 1250; Philip Callan (HR) 1202; Chichester Fortescue (Liberal) 608; and Matthew O'Reilly Dease (L) 265.

Title: Series of handwritten letters from Walter Moonan, tenant, [Gernonstown], to William De Salis Filgate, esquire, land agent:

(a) Moonan writes about his tenants refusing to pay their rent. He explains the majority of them got their rent reduced with the Land Court and they now want an abatement of twenty per cent. He discloses that for the past six years he has been allowed by the landlord an abatement of 15 per cent, 'a proportionate share of which I allowed such of the sub-tenants as did not go into the courts, and for this I am to get 20 per cent'. He writes how he feels he is now entitled to some consideration of abatement from Sir Cavendish Foster 'now from the awful depression in all kinds of farming' and that he will be 'thankful and satisfied' should he be allowed 15 per cent. 28 Nov 1885, 4pp

(b) Moonan expresses his sorrow that his request did not receive 'a more favourable reply to abatement of rent'. He explains that he had to make large reductions in the rents of his subletting and informs Filgate that the valuation of the farm is approximately £36 under the rent he pays and that reductions all over the country are down to under Griffith's Valuation, 'even when the landlord's interest is small, I myself have sad experience of this fact'. He discusses why he purchased the farm at Monasterboice and refers to the litigation amongst the friends of the late Mr Bra[ngan] and why he became his successor. He writes that he hopes Sir Cavendish Foster will consider his request if he allows reductions of rent and notes that he encloses a cheque for half years rent. 04 Dec 1885, 4pp

(c) Moonan notifies Filgate of the sub-committee for the erection of labourer's cottages in Monasterboice who wanted to erect two houses on the land, however, Moonan met with them to prevent them from doing so and they now intend on erecting one house at the entrance gate leading to the cemetery. 26 Feb 1886, 2pp

(d) Moonan tells Filgate that he has been speaking to his solicitor who has advised him that there is one house (labourer's cottage) to be erected and that the site is a favourable one. He thanks Filgate for his 'kind offer of assistance in the matter'. 09 Mar 1886, 2pp

Name of Creator(s): Richard [Cooper] Henry

Admin/Biographical History: Richard Cooper Henry occupied Rathneestin (Rathneestin) in 1854 (see Griffith's Valuation). Alexander Henry (who possibly was Eileen Georgina Filgate's husband Richard Alexander Bailie Henry or an ancestor of her husband) was Viscount Cremorne's Co Louth agent (see Introduction to the Dartrey Papers, D3053, on PRONI's website). Richard Cooper Henry may also have been ancestor of her husband.

Eileen Georgina Filgate of Lisrenny (b1879), only surviving daughter of the late William de Salis Filgate of Lisrenny, m 1902 Richard Alexander Bailie Henry of Rathneestin, Ardee. Henry was Captain of North Irish Horse (Spec Res) 'who assumed by Royal Licence 1917, the surname and arms of Filgate in compliance with the testamentary injunction of the late William de Salis Filgate' (source: Burke's Peerage).

Richard Dawson, 1st Earl of Dartrey (1817 – 1897), styled the Hon. Richard Dawson until 1827 and the Lord Cremorne from 1827 to 1866, was an Anglo-Irish Liberal, and later Liberal Unionist, politician. In 1847 he was created Baron Dartrey, of Dartrey in the County of Monaghan. Dartrey served as a Lord-in-Waiting (government whip in the House of Lords) under Lord Palmerston from 1857 to 1858 and under Palmerston and later Lord Russell from 1859 to 1866. He was made a Knight of the Order of St Patrick in 1855 and in 1866 he was made Earl of Dartrey, of Dartrey in the County of Monaghan. In 1886 Dartrey broke with William Gladstone over Irish Home Rule and moved to the Liberal Unionist benches in the House of Lords. He also served as Lord-Lieutenant of County Monaghan from 1871 to 1897.

Title: Filgate family estate
Dates: 1757 – 1914
Level of Description: Sub-fonds
Extent: 92 items
Name of Creator(s): Filgate family estate

Admin/Biographical History:

Upon the marriage of William Filgate and Anne Peppard in 1665, the lands of Lisrenny were confirmed by patent of Charles II (1666) in trust for William Peppard's son-in-law, William Filgate. Within a few generations, the Filgates were considered one of the larger landowners in County Louth.

The Filgate estate was fragmented over parts of Louth (Tallanstown, Dromin and Stickillin areas), Monaghan (Inniskeen area), and [Meath (Carrickleck)]. At Lisrenny in Tallanstown, the Filgates owned some 760 acres, 2 roods and 24 perches, while elsewhere they owned and occupied an additional 3,000 plus acres. The following townlands formed part of the Filgate estate: Ballinloughan, Little Ash, part of Dromin, part of Mooremount called Earls Acre, Harristown, Hoathstown, Roestown, Tattyboys, Knocklore, part of Mullamore, part of Arthurstown, Lisrenny Demesne, part of town of Ardee, all in County Louth. And in Co Monaghan: Keenogue, Magony, Miskishmore, Miskiskbeg (Miskish beg), and Drumboat (see valuation of the estates of William Filgate (1781-1875) by Messrs Brassington and Gale dated 1853, item reference PP00001/002/002/015). A rental of the estate of William Filgate (1781-1875) for the half year ending 1st November 1842 also includes Pepperstown in Co Louth and Dromerl (Drumirril) in Co Monaghan as being part of the Filgate estate (item reference PP00001/002/003/001). However, it seems Filgate is probably paying head rents on Pepperstown because in a document (item reference PP00001/002/002/005) listing names to which rents, rent charges and interests are paid, names such as Sir F Foster and Lord Louth are included. Furthermore, Griffith's Valuation in 1854 lists William Filgate as the occupier of 107 acres, 1 rood, and 10 perches in Pepperstown with Sir Frederick G Foster, baronet as the lessor. Griffith's Valuation also shows Filgate occupying 46 acres, 1 rood and 26 perches in Silverpark & Churchpark in Louth Hall with Lord Louth as the lessor. And in Co Monaghan, Filgate is the occupier of 51 acres, 2 roods, and 20 perches in Miskishbeg (Miskish beg) with Dixie Clement as the lessor (Filgate owns a further 43 acres in Miskishbeg).

In eighteenth and nineteenth century Ireland, the landed estate system was a central feature of Irish life with many major events connected to it such as the Great Famine that took place in the late 1840s or the Land War of the 1870s-90s. The landed estate system was one of a series of letting and subletting where the estate land was held in freehold or outright ownership by the landlord who then leased land to tenants who in turn sublet land to smaller landholders. The headquarters of the landed estate consisted of the landlord's house and demesne which was normally worked by local labourers and therefore was an important source of local employment. According to the 1831 census, 54% of males over twenty years in the Tallanstown parish found work as farm labourers (Edwards, John Arwel, The landless in mid-nineteenth century County Louth (CLAHJ 1966) Vol XVI, No 2, p103).

The Filgate estate like many landed estates struggled after the Great Famine due to the effects of death and emigration amongst the smaller tenants. As a result of the rent arrears accumulated during the Great Famine, in addition to estate charges and annuities, and the cost of maintaining the landlord's residence and lifestyle, many estates became encumbered with debts and smaller estate holdings were sometimes consolidated. In relation to the Filgate estate during the post-Famine period, the total of debts on the Lisrenny estate up to November 1849 stood at £7500, less proceeds of stock and rental totalling £6086 left a deficiency of £1414, while for the period up to November 1850 the total of debts was £5657 less proceeds of £4300 left a deficiency of £1357 (see item reference PP00001/002/002/013). Accounts showing the debits and credits on the estate and valuations including one carried out by Messrs Brassingtons and Gale in 1853 can be found in item references PP00001/002/002/010, 012 – 015. The latter valuation for the Filgate estate in Louth was £3008.13.5 out of which Lisrenny Demesne was valued at £1079.3.1, and for the Filgate estate in Monaghan the valuation was £712.1.9. The Encumbered Estates Act was passed in 1849. Under this Act, Court Commissioners were allowed to sell off bankrupt estates. Upon application by a creditor, the Court was empowered to sell any holding where debts had risen above fifty per cent of the yearly income. Irish Encumbered Estates Court Rentals which are available in PRONI includes rentals of the estate of William Filgate, relating to lands in the counties of Louth and Monaghan (see reference D1201/53 for Co Louth in PRONI's e-catalogue available at www.proni.gov.uk).

By the late nineteenth century, agricultural depression and political agitation had helped to undermine the value of land and produce. Through a series of land acts, the rights of tenants improved and rents became fairer. Rents, which were once a principal source of income for the Filgates and other landlords, declined as the century drew to a close and landlords became eager to sell their land. The Land Purchase Acts of 1885 and 1903 brought an end to landlord control over tenants by providing tenants with sufficient purchase money to buy out their farms and by giving landlords a 12% bonus for selling their whole estate. There was a high uptake by tenants and landlords were able to pay off their debts with many landlords subsequently investing in stocks and shares while others left the country having sold their estates.

Scope and content:

Title: Stephen Filgate's (1714-1787) account book listing debits and credits relating to tenants. There is a partly completed index at the front. In pocket inside front cover are six documents: a rough Filgate genealogy for the years 1649 - 1846, a rough Filgate 'family tree' for the approximate years 1649 - 1846, a record of ale making 1768-1782, a sketch for accounts 1770-1773, a torn page with some brief Filgate genealogical details; and two rent receipts - one for the 'tenants of Tullyvanrah 18 Jan 1783' and the other from the representatives of John Robinson, 19 Dec 1758.

The names of accounts in the account book include Mr Thomas Sweetlove 30 June 1757 – 22 June 1759; Mr John Robinson 28 December 1757 – 25 March 1761; Mr William Filgate 2 April 1761 – 6 November 1766 (his administrator 27 June 1767); Mr Thomas Filgate 12 July 1767 – 28 November 1784; Mrs Alice Filgate 23 December 1784 – 2 July 1787; Mr Edmund Caraher (and Mr Bryan Caraher) 25 January 1758 – 8 November 1785; John Byrne (employed to receive rents in Tullyvanrah) 29 September 1762 – 9 October 1786; and James Cunningham 26 April 1758 – 12 April 1772. There are two loose inserts in the book detailing payments.

The letter provides a statement of liabilities and several scenarios regarding the head rents, rent charges and incumbrances on Lisrenny Estate. Names to whom head rents and charges are paid are provided on p3-4. The sender advises (William Filgate) on 'the state of your affairs'. They write 'the only way I see of meeting the present state of things is by honestly openly and at once giving up everything you are possessed of to your auditors - receiving from them a yearly allowance - I mean of course you should leave Lisrenny - giving up the stock to meet present demands. The sole management of the property to be vested in the hands of trustees appointed by you with the sanction of the creditors'. Also includes a document urging arrangements with the creditors.

Title: 'Memorandum as to valuation of Lisrenny property with rising and falling scale for corn rent' signed by TW Filgate (d1868).

The document states 'In making a valuation of the property the average of produce I took for Harristown was 10 barrels of wheat, 14 barrels of barley and 15 barrels of oats per acre (this with deductions for waste) leaves the valuation of this townland about £2.0.0 per acre. The average prices taken were wheat 21s, barley 11s 6d, and oats 9s 6d. On the other side of this sheet I give on one side a rising and on the other a falling scale taking the averages of produce and price above grain (at £2.0.0 an acre) as a standard, to show the effect of rise or fall of price on rent. Of course the whole valuation was conducted on the same principle and will be subject to the same relative change. I ...take this townland for ...of exemplification.' Admin/Biographical History: William De Salis Filgate of Lisrenny (1834-1916), son of William Filgate of Lisrenny (1781-1875) and Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis (1807-1886), was appointed Justice of the Peace in 1859, Deputy Lieutenant in 1872, and High Sheriff in 1879. He was elected chairman of the Ardee Board of Guardians, and first chairman of Ardee Rural District Council in 1898 and was an ex-officio member of Louth County Council from 1899 until his death in June 1916. He was Church-warden of Charlestown in 1857, 1862, 1866, 1868, 1869, 1872, and from 1874 - 1911 (possibly longer).
- Filgate became master of the Louth Hounds in 1860, a position which he held until 1912. In 1912, Rev Guy WC L'Estrange, Rector of Charlestown wrote in his 'Notes and Jottings concerning the parish of Charlestown union in the county of Louth' (p37-38) that Captain William de Salis Filgate celebrated his Jubilee as Master of the Louth Hounds in 1910 and was presented with his portrait painted by WR Symonds. L'Estrange wrote 'in hunting, as in everything else which he undertakes, his actions are marked by that thoroughness which is characteristic of the man. He has had the unique experience that during those fifty years, he never missed a day the hounds were out either cubbing or regular hunting, and he never altered a meet to suit his own convenience. His popularity with the country people is unbounded; and whilst almost every other pack in Ireland was obliged to stop hunting during the Land League agitation of 1881-1882, the Louth Hounds were not interfered with in any way.'

In 1870, Filgate married Georgiana Harriet French (d1927), eldest daughter of the late William John French, of Ardsallagh, Co Meath, and had issue: Violet Evelyn Sophia, and Eileen Georgina who married Richard Alexander Baillie Henry of Rathnestin on 6th August 1902.

Title: Filgate family and Louth Grand Jury

Dates: 1819 - 1885 [1892]

Level of Description: Sub-fonds

Extent: 117 items

Name of Creator(s): Grand Jury

Admin/Biographical History:

The archives of the Grand Jury are one of the oldest local authority archival collections. Originating in the 17th century, the main function of the Grand Jury was the administration of justice. In the following centuries they took on more functions such as the provision of roads and public buildings, and the running and maintaining of dispensaries, court, fever hospitals, county infirmary, and the county gaol. They also collected a tax called the county cess. The Valuation Acts of 1826 and 1852 made the valuation more equitable and from 1833 ratepayers were represented at the baronial presentment sessions. The Grand Jury was made up of prominent local landowners who were appointed by the sheriff and they met twice yearly at the spring and summer assizes for the purpose of passing presentments of proposed and approved works which were effectively financed by the cess payer. The post of the county surveyor was first created in the 19th century and he also reported to the assizes. However, corrupt practices amongst the grand juries were widespread and at the end of the 19th century their powers and duties were transferred to the newly democratically elected county councils, and to a lesser extent to rural district councils under the Local Government (Ireland) Act of 1898.

Scope and content:

This sub-fonds relates to the Filgate family's involvement with the Louth Grand Jury, 1819 - 1885 [1892]. It includes correspondence from Dublin Castle regarding returns of the Louth Grand Jury and accounts of the Louth Grand Jury (1824 – 1830); material regarding appointments, attendance and members of Louth Grand Jury (1819 – 1885); accounts of Alexander Shekleton, secretary of Louth Grand Jury, with Thomas Filgate, treasurer of Louth Grand Jury (1825 – 1829); statistics of Ardee Union for 28 July 1849 and 27 July 1850; correspondence and subscriptions from Grand Jury members regarding Alexander Shekleton's testimonial on his resignation as secretary of the Grand Jury (1875 – 1876); correspondence regarding the election of secretary to the Louth Grand Jury (1875); and a letter from John Callan, Shamrock, to Captain William de Salis Filgate, Lissrenny, regarding the Labourers' Committee and rates [1892].

Sub-fonds PP00001/004/ Identity Statement, Context, Content & Structure

Reference Code: PP00001/004/
Title: Filgate family personal papers
Dates: 1785 – 1964
Level of Description: Sub-fonds
Extent: 62 items
Name of Creator(s): Filgate family personal papers

Admin/Biographical History:

The Filgate family personal papers sub-fonds relates to various members of the Filgate family and thus gives an insight into their personal and social life. As landlords, the Filgates would have lived in relative comfort compared to their tenants and life would have revolved around the management of their estate, the local hunt, and social gatherings: see invitations received by members of the Filgate family under sub-sub-fonds PP00001/004/007/. The Filgates had a strong interest in hunting, in particular William Filgate (1740 – 1816) and William de Salis Filgate (1834 – 1916) who were both masters of the hounds and the former was involved in the formation of the Northern Rangers Hunt Club Dundalk and in the Louth Hunt: see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/004/008/ and PP00001/004/009/ for notices and a receipts and payments book. Another strong interest held by members of the Filgate family was cricket. All of the sons of William Filgate (1781-1875) and Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis (1807-1886) played cricket, in particular Charles Roden Filgate (1849-1930), William De Salis (1834-1916) and Leopold George Plantagenet (1843-1906), thus explaining the items in this collection relating to cricket: see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/004/011/. Other examples of items found in the Filgate family personal papers sub-fonds which give a detailed insight into the personal life of the Filgates include three personal account books (see sub-sub-fonds PP00001/004/006/) in particular the account book of Sophia Juliana Penelope (1807 - 1886), dating from 26th October 1831, the day before her marriage to William Filgate (1781 - 1875), until 1849. It lists entries such as 16 yards of ribbon at 1 shilling, subscription to Bible Society, or mourning gown: see item reference PP00001/004/006/001.

Scope and content:

This sub-fonds relates to personal papers of the Filgate family (1785 – 1964). It includes volumes containing sermons, stories, recipes and jokes written or collected by members of the Filgate family (1785 – 1847, 1917); small mementoes and keepsakes owned by members of the Filgate family ([1786], pre-1879 – 1923); will of Elenor Filgate, mother of William, Townley, Mary Anne, Margaret and Elenor (1791); certificates received by Townley Filgate for his degrees and ordination as deacon (1804 – 1812); document listing the date and time of birth of eleven children of William Filgate between 1695 – 1716; personal account books (1831 – 1870); invitations received by members of the Filgate family ([1841 - 1844], 1857 – 1964); meeting notices of the Northern Rangers (1844 – 1845); payments book for the 'Louth hounds' and notices of the Louth Hunt and Ardee Steeplechase Races (1864 – 1893); account of monies given to Charles Roden Filgate on his preparing for the Bar (1869 – 1872); material relating to the cricket matches that the Filgates attended or played such as cricket scoring books (1877 – 1901 (1918)); a small quantity of photographs including one of William Filgate (1781-1875) (no date); and a National Savings certificates book (1940).

Name of Creator(s): William De Salis Filgate of Lisrenny (1834-1916)

Admin/Biographical History: William De Salis Filgate of Lisrenny (1834-1916), son of William Filgate of Lisrenny (1781-1875) and Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis (1807-1886), was appointed Justice of the Peace in 1859, Deputy Lieutenant in 1872, and High Sheriff in 1879. He was elected chairman of the Ardee Board of Guardians, and first chairman of Ardee Rural District Council in 1898 and was an ex-officio member of Louth County Council from 1899 until his death in June 1916. He was Church-warden of Charlestown in 1857, 1862, 1866, 1868, 1869, 1872, and from 1874 – 1911 (possibly longer).

Filgate became master of the Louth Hounds in 1860, a position which he held until 1912. In 1912, Rev Guy WC L'Estrange, Rector of Charlestown wrote in his 'Notes and Jottings concerning the parish of Charlestown union in the county of Louth' (p37-38) that Captain William de Salis Filgate celebrated his Jubilee as Master of the Louth Hounds in 1910 and was presented with his portrait painted by WR Symonds. L'Estrange wrote 'in hunting, as in everything else which he undertakes, his actions are marked by that thoroughness which is characteristic of the man. He has had the unique experience that during those fifty years, he never missed a day the hounds were out either cubbing or regular hunting, and he never altered a meet to suit his own convenience. His popularity with the country people is unbounded; and whilst almost every other pack in Ireland was obliged to stop hunting during the Land League agitation of 1881-1882, the Louth Hounds were not interfered with in any way.'

In 1870, Filgate married Georgiana Harriet French (d1927), eldest daughter of the late William John French, of Ardsallagh, Co Meath, and had issue: Violet Evelyn Sophia, and Eileen Georgina who married Richard Alexander Baillie Henry of Rathnestin on 6th August 1902.

Name of Creator(s): Charlestown Church
Admin/Biographical History: Charlestown Rectory was built during the Incumbency of the Reverend Townley Filgate (1784-1822). The building was completed in March 1820 at a cost of £2,132.17.8½. Several years later, in 1828 a new church was built on a site close to the old church at a total cost of £1,932.9.4½. The Filgates have long been closely associated with Charlestown Church which can be seen from the many gifts they have presented to the Church on numerous occasions. The records of the Church also show numerous votes of thanks being passed to members of the Filgate family. Examples include the brass eagle lectern which was presented to the Church in 1894 by the children of William Filgate (1781-1875) and Sophia Juliana Penelope (1807-1886) in their memory, while Mrs Filgate's brother, William Fane de Salis gave a carved oak pulpit in her memory. Mrs Thomas William Filgate (Anne Harriett Penelope Eleanor, 1832-1917) gave numerous items to the Church and paid the cost of repairing the roof of the chancel and vestry in 1900. Townley Fane Filgate (1846-1914) gave a turret clock in 1903 and in 1906 gave the lamp over the outside door. When a farm adjoining the church came up for sale in 1910, Townley purchased it and gave part of the field next to the church for the purpose of extending the cemetery, as new cemetery space had been required for some time. In addition, he gave gardens for the schoolmistress and sexton. Colonel AJ Filgate (1837-1909) also donated and bequeathed money to the parish for the Sustentation Fund, while in 1911 a stained glass window was given to the Church by members of the Filgate family in his memory.

Townley Filgate (1784-1822) was Curate of Charlestown from 1807-1816 where he then became Vicar (see PP00001/004/004/). Members of the Filgate family have been elected to the office of Churchwarden on a regular basis as far back as 1767, in particular William de Salis Filgate (1834-1916) who was churchwarden from 1874-1911. The duties of the churchwarden included collecting and managing the parochial rates, assessments, and other properties and monies of Charlestown Union. Reverend Guy WC L'Estrange wrote of William de Salis Filgate in his 'Notes and Jottings concerning the parish of Charlestown Union in the county of Louth' (Charlestown, 1912) that 'as a Churchman he has few equals...he takes a keen interest in everything connected with the Church, and his purse is always open to support the finances or charities'. L'Estrange also wrote of Townley Fane Filgate that he 'is not a whit behind his brother in his interest in Church matters...and the present satisfactory state of the parish finances is to a large extent due to his careful management...'

Admin/Biographical History: Thomas Philip de Grey, 2nd Earl de Grey, 3rd Baron Grantham (1781 – 1859), was a Tory politician and was known as The Lord Grantham from 1786 to 1833. Born Thomas Robinson, his surname was Weddell from 1803 and de Grey from 1833. He was the eldest son of Thomas Robinson, 2nd Baron Grantham and Lady Mary Jemima Yorke, a daughter of Jemima Yorke, 2nd Marchioness Grey and younger sister of Annabella Hume-Campbell, 1st Countess de Grey. His younger brother was Prime Minister Lord Goderich. He succeeded his father as third baron in 1786, and became the sixth baronet Robinson of Newby in 1792. In 1833 he succeeded his aunt (Annabella Hume-Campbell) as second Earl de Grey according to a special remainder and also became Baron Lucas of Crudwell. He inherited the Wrest Park estate in Bedfordshire where he designed Wrest House. In 1805, Lord de Grey married Lady Henrietta Frances Cole (d1848), daughter of William Cole, 1st Earl of Enniskillen. He was succeeded in the barony of Lucas of Crudwell by his daughter, Anne, while his other titles passed to his nephew, George Robinson, 2nd Earl of Ripon.

De Grey was colonel-commandant of the Yorkshire Hussar Regiment of Cavalry for over forty years and was appointed yeomanry aide-de-camp to William IV and held similar position under Queen Victoria. Thomas de Grey was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland from September 1841 to July 1844.

Admin/Biographical History: The Northern Rangers was established in 1774. The Journal of the County Louth Archaeological Society, No 4, Vol V, 1924 provides an extract from the records of the Northern Rangers Hunt Club, Dundalk, 1774 including a list of rules and resolutions, and a list of the original members of the Hunt Club. Included in this list as an original member is William Filgate (1740 –1816). Thomas William Filgate [d1846] was admitted on 23rd October 1788 and Thomas (1773-1830) and Alexander Filgate (1771-1827) on 18 October 1792.

Henry McClintock in his diary of 12th December 1805, briefly mentions being admitted a member of the Northern Rangers on that date. McClintock also notes in his journal on 1st December 1824 that he attended the Northern Rangers Jubilee Dinner in Dundalk Market House to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the hunt. While past members were invited, twenty-one members attended including James Dawson of Forkhill who formed the hunt. William Filgate (1781-1875) is also noted as having attended.

Admin/Biographical History: William Filgate (1740 – 1816) was known to have been a Master of Hounds and he kept a private pack of foxhounds c1781. Henry McClintock in his journal on the 29th November 1811 noted that he rode to near the church of Louth with his nephew Matt Fortescue & Wolfe McNeale & Reverend John Fortescue where they met Mr Filgate's hounds and other horsemen. The Louth hounds were established as a county pack about 1817 when the Louth Hunt was also formed.

According to Bassett's Louth Guide (1886) 'Mr Sheills of Newtown Darver, and Col Filgate of Lissrenny, then joined their packs of harriers for the purpose of forming a pack of fox hounds. Mr BD Sheills carried this along for years most successfully...Mr William Filgate, father of Capt William de Salis Filgate, succeeded Mr Sheills. He then resided at Kiltybegs on the border of Monaghan. After a few seasons Mr Filgate was succeeded by Mr Mathew Fortescue, of Stephenstown...Mr Pratt, then of Fane Valley, was the successor of Mr Fortescue...the kennels continued at Stephenstown while Mr Pratt was master. The hounds remained there after his resignation, and were taken charge of by a committee, headed by Mr John Straton, of Dundalk. In 1843 Mr Arthur

Upton took the hounds and moved them to Glyde Farm. He gave them up in 1846, and they were again hunted by committee for two or three seasons. Mr Ruxton, of Ardee House, succeeded, and removed the kennels to Ardee. He held office until 1854, when Lord Bellew became master for one year. Mr Haig, of Dundalk, was the next master...Mr Haig gave up the hounds in 1860, and Capt William de Salis Filgate became master, and moved them to Lisrenny, Ardee, where they have ever since remained...' (1886). In 1912, Rev Guy WC L'Estrange, Rector of Charlestown wrote in his 'Notes and Jottings concerning the parish of Charlestown union in the county of Louth' (p37-38) that Captain William de Salis Filgate celebrated his Jubilee as Master of the Louth Hounds in 1910 and was presented with his portrait painted by WR Symonds. L'Estrange wrote 'in hunting, as in everything else which he undertakes, his actions are marked by that thoroughness which is characteristic of the man. He has had the unique experience that during those fifty years, he never missed a day the hounds were out either cubbing or regular hunting, and he never altered a meet to suit his own convenience. His popularity with the country people is unbounded; and whilst almost every other pack in Ireland was obliged to stop hunting during the Land League agitation of 1881-1882, the Louth Hounds were not interfered with in any way.'

In relation to racing, Bassett's Louth Guide notes that 'if the numbers attending the meetings is an indication, horse-racing must be regarded as the most popular sport in Louth. Within the county the great event of 1885 was celebrated at Mullacurry, on the 7th of May. This splendid steeplecase course is regarded by the best authorities as second only to that of Punchestown, the premier. It is about three miles from Ardee, and a like distance from the railway station at Dunleer.'

Name of Creator(s): Charles Roden Filgate (1849 - 1930)
Admin/Biographical History: Charles Roden Filgate (1849 - 1930), barrister-at-law, son of William Filgate of Lisrenny (1781-1875) and Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis (1807-1886). One of seven siblings including William De Salis Filgate of Lisrenny (1834-1916) and Townley Fane (1846-1914), secretary of the Grand Jury and Louth Co Council. Charles Roden married 1906 Clare Cooper (daughter of William Cooper of Coventry). He had one son William Alexander Jerome (b1908) and one daughter Margaret Penelope Filgate (b1910). Charles Roden was a strong cricket player (see Admin History/Biography for PP00001/004/011/) and at the time of his death, he had been an MCC [Marylebone Cricket Club] member for 61 years, and was still attending matches at Lord's in 1929.

Admin/Biographical History: According to George Henry Bassett in his 'Louth Guide and Directory' (1886), 'cricket as a game has not reached a high stage of popularity in the county. Interest in it centres at Drogheda, where there has been a club in existence for more than ten years.' Duffy's Dundalk states that cricket was being played in Dundalk since 1869 'and, since then, it has been taken up spasmodically.'

All of the sons of William Filgate (1781-1875) and Sophia Juliana Penelope de Salis (1807-1886) played cricket, however, the youngest Charles Roden Filgate (1849-1930) is known as having been the best player. Three of the brothers gained Irish caps: Charles Roden, William De Salis (1834-1916) and Leopold George Plantagenet (1843-1906). According to Edward Liddle (www.cricketeurope4.net/CSTATZ/irelandall/bio/f/filgate_cr.html), 'the older brothers had founded the Louth County Club and the family was to keep it going for many years. Charles was a forcing upper order batsman, with, according to "Scores and Biographies", a "strong defence and fine hitting powers." He was also a brilliant field, often at long leg or cover point. He first made his name at Cheltenham College, where he benefited from the coaching of the cousins James Lillywhite senior and junior, the latter was to become the first England Test Match captain.' Charles Roden Filgate was a regular for four years from 1865 at Cheltenham XI. He had his Irish debut in 1868 and played three times for his country. In the summer of 1868, he played in the Louth against Navan match. He then became a member of MCC [Marylebone Cricket Club] in 1869 and played much cricket there. He also played cricket for Gloucestershire from 1869 - 1877. Alexander Jerome Filgate (1837-1909), Colonel Royal Engineers, may have been the Filgate to which the cricket score card of the '16th Lancers v County Louth' in 1883 (PP00001/004/011/003) derives from.

Title: Cricket score book. Written on the inside page is 'the Amalgamated Duffers 1877' listing names and scores 1877 - 1885. At the back of the book is a short diary covering the dates 18 January 1918 to 22 February 1918. The author is unidentified, however, it is no doubt the diary of Richard Alexander Bailie Henry (1877-1967), later Filgate of Rathnestin, Ardee, as it is of a soldier serving in France during the War with references about visiting Rouen, a medical board finding him unfit for frontline service, seeking permission to resign his commission (this was granted to Henry in March) and being in command of a Prisoner of War Company.

Richard Alexander Bailie Henry was Captain of the North Irish Horse (Special Reserve); see the Monthly Army List for January – March 1918:

Title: Election posters
Dates: 1852 – 1874
Level of Description: Sub-fonds
Extent: 4 items
Name of Creator(s): Elections in the nineteenth century

Admin/Biographical History:

In the nineteenth century local government was carried out by the Grand Jury, a body which was chosen by the sheriff in each county, and typically consisted of the biggest landowners and other prominent people. The electorate only had the chance to participate in politics during elections for parliament, and it wasn't until 1872 that they could cast their vote in secret when the Secret Ballots Act came in. Prior to this, voting was done in public. The right to vote was based on the ownership of property. As the 19th century progressed the electoral franchise was gradually increased by decreasing the value of land which the person must own in order to qualify to vote. At the start of the 19th century, the franchise was restricted to those with a 40 shilling freehold, however, it was extended a number of times and in 1850 it included occupiers of property of the rateable value of £12 or upwards. Women were excluded from this process. The election posters in this sub-fonds are an example of the type of canvassing that took place at the time.

Scope and content:

This sub-fonds contains four nineteenth century election posters.

Title: Election poster titled 'To the Electors of Louth' containing an address by John McClintock Junior, Drumcar, stating 'I am pledged to no party...'
Date(s): 03 Jul 1852
Level of Description: Item
Extent: 1 p
Name of Creator(s): John McClintock (1798 – 1879), junior
Admin/Biographical History: John McClintock (1798 – 1879), junior, son of John McClintock (1770 – 1855), of Drumcar, MP for Louth in 1831, was high sheriff for Co Louth in 1840 and MP for Co Louth from 1857-59. McClintock was a Conservative (tory) candidate whom in 1852, the year of the elections to which the poster (PP00001/005/001) relates, was defeated by Liberals (whig) Chichester Fortescue and Tristram Kennedy. Eventually in 1857, McClintock, along with Fortescue won the Louth seats for parliament. However, the Whigs, led by Lord Palmerston, finally won a majority in the House of Commons as the Tory vote fell significantly.
- McClintock was created the first Baron Rathdonnell in 1868 in recognition of his services to the Protestant and Conservative causes, recommended by Lord Downshire in 1852. John McClintock, junior, was also appointed Lieutenant of Drogheda and a Colonel in the Louth Militia. McClintock's estate in Co Louth totalled 3,000 acres.

Title: Anti-Home Rule poster issued by Cavendish H Foster.
Date(s): 07 Feb 1874
Level of Description: Item
Extent: 1 p
Name of Creator(s): Reverend Cavendish Foster, third baronet

Admin/Biographical History: Reverend Cavendish Hervey Foster of Glyde Court (1817 – 1890), 3rd baronet, son of Sir Augustus John Foster 1st baronet, and brother of Sir Frederick George Foster 2nd baronet, married 1844 Isabella Todd (d1881).

Reverend Cavendish Foster resided near Epping in Essex and was an absentee landlord who left the running of his estate to his agents William de Salis Filgate and [Thomas William Filgate of Tullykeel, Ardee].

Up until the 1870s the majority of people elected Liberals and Conservatives as their MPs. However, in the 1870s, a former Conservative turned nationalist campaigner, Isaac Butt, established the Home Rule League. The Home Rule Movement sought the repeal of the Act of Union of 1800 by a demand for self-government within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. Foster did not support the Home Rule movement and thus issued an anti-Home Rule poster in 1874 (see item PP00001/005/003). However, the 1874 general election saw the nationalists in the Home Rule Party become the first significant third party in Parliament. The results of the 1874 election saw two nationalists or Home Rulers returned for the county for the first time. The results were: Alexander Martin Sullivan (Home Rule) 1250; Philip Callan (HR) 1202; Chichester Fortescue (Liberal) 608; and Matthew O'Reilly Dease (L) 265.
