GRAND JURY ORDERS AT SPRING ASSIZES, 1886.

Ordered—That in lieu of the order made in the case of defaulting Contractors at Spring Assizes, 1880, in all cases in which the County Surveyor requires legal assistance on behalf of the County in prosecution of defaulting Contractors, he shall be at liberty to apply to Mr. Rogers, Solicitor to the Grand Jury, who shall act in such prosecutions, and be paid the proper costs in reference thereto, including the attendance of witnesses.

The Grand Jury desire, on the occasion of the retirement of the County Surveyor, John Neville, Esq., to place on record their high appreciation of the manner in which the duties of that office have been performed during the long period in which it has been held by Mr. Neville.

The report of the Surveyor reminds the Grand Jury that the present is the 91st occasion, on which without intermission, he has attended the Assizes, and during that time they have found in Mr. Neville, a skilful zealous, and conscientious official.

The state of the County roads has long afforded evidence of the satisfactory way in which the County Surveyor's arduous duties have been discharged.

Proposed by L. A. LEE-NORMAN, Esq.;

Seconded by FINLAY CHESTER, Esq.

Passed unanimously.

For Self and Fellows,

JOHN S. ROBINSON,

Foreman of Grand Jury.

COUNTY OF LOUTH.

SPRING ASSIZES, 1886.

WE, the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Louth, assembled at Spring Assizes, view with much alarm a proposal to disturb the Legislative Union as at present existing between Great Britain and Ireland, and regarding that Union as alone capable of affording adequate security for the maintenance of the authority of the Law, and the preservation of Individual Liberty; we most strongly deprecate any measure being adopted by Parliament which would tend to weaken or impair that Union.

JOHN S. ROBINSON, Foreman,

For self and fellows.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

To the Foreman and Grand Jury of Louth, assembled at Spring Assizes, 1886.

COL. SIR JOHN ROBINSON AND GENTLEMEN,

The number of miles of roads at present under Contracts of Maintainance is 584 miles, 4 furlongs, 8 perches. This is the highest number yet attained. In 1840 it was 380 miles, before the turnpike roads were transferred to the County.

I have attached hereto, the usual Statistics of Works, Amount, and Cost, with a comparison for the last three years.

The Sum of £210 13s. 10d. re-presented on roads at last Assizes, with £138 17s. 9d. now recommended to be re-presented, savings on the Newry road, make £349 11s. 7d. savings during the past year.

This is my ninety-first appearance, without an omission, before you, and in proposing to retire, I have to acknowledge the uniform assistance I have received for very nearly 40 years.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

JOHN NEVILLE,

County Surveyor, Louth.

GRAND JURY ORDERS AT SUMMER ASSIZES, 1886.

Referring to the application of J. C. Bailie, Sub-Sheriff, under the Juries' Act, and the Report of Committee thereon, we present the sum of £52 as found to be the amount of expenses incurred to Summer Assizes, 1886.

Resolved—That as it appears that the fences of some roads which cross or are crossed by railroads in the County Louth, are in an unsatisfactory condition, we request the County Surveyor of Louth to inspect such cases, and where it is the duty of the Railway to put same in repair, to call upon them to do so.

For self and fellows,

JOHN S. ROBINSON,
 Foreman of Grand Jury.

COUNTY OF LOUTH SUMMER ASSIZES, 1886.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN,

The number of maintenance contracts which will expire at this Assizes is eighteen. Presentments were made and contractors declared for all of these roads at last Special Sessions, also for two roads at present in my charge, so that there is only one County Road presented in the name of the County Surveyor.

The sums presented at Special Sessions for these twenty roads amounted in all to £1,252 19s. 1d. per annum, which was cut down by tenders at Adjourned Sessions to £1,162 13s. 0d. per annum. The cost of the same works under the old contracts amounted to £1,125 4s. 8d.

The Special Works are of the usual character, and are few in number. I shall give you every information regarding them as you go through the Schedule.

Generally speaking the County Roads are in fair order, but several main roads are not sound and hard as they ought to be, and get into a very heavy condition in wet weather. This is due partly to the fact that the materials available for repairs in the greater part of the county are not of the best description; but some improvement may be made by compelling the contractors to expend a sufficient amount of labour, and to take care to select the best materials available.

Under the Act 8 Vic., c. 20, sec. 46, when a Railway is carried across a Public Road by means of a Bridge or Level Crossing it is provided that the approaches to the Bridge or Level Crossing shall be at all times afterwards kept in good repair by the Railway Company. The Act, however, does not require that the approaches should be put into repair to the satisfaction of the County Surveyor, nor that the mode of repair approved of in any county should be adopted, and as the Railway Companies have no direct interest in keeping the approaches in good repair it is probable that legal proceedings would be frequently required. If you wish that any action should be taken in this matter I beg that you will make an order on the subject.

The pipe track for the Dundalk Water-Works, where it traverses some of the County Roads, has been filled in with clay covered with about two inches deep of broken stone, where formerly there was a depth of about nine inches of solidly-bound broken stone, lying on a sound foundation. I have refused to certify for payments to the road contractors concerned until the damage is repaired.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

P. J. LYNAM.

COUNTY OF LOUTH SPRING ASSIZES, 1887.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

COL. SIR JOHN ROBINSON AND GENTLEMEN,

Twenty-five maintenance Contracts expire at this Assizes, and fresh Contracts have been made at Adjourned Sessions in twenty-one of these cases. Taking the four contracts still open at the full sums allowed by the Special Sessions, the new contracts amount to £1485 16s. 8d., as against £1548 12s. 9d., the amount of the old contracts shewing a decrease of £112 14s. 1d.

Gibber's Bridge, between Ardee and Ferrard Baronies, was seriously injured by the heavy floods of October last, and is now in a dangerous condition. The sum of £100 was presented for repairs (being the largest sum not requiring exhibition,) but, except under favourable conditions, it will not be sufficient.

In cases of serious neglect during the past half year, fifty-seven summonses were issued against Road Contractors and their Sureties. Five cases were settled, the necessary works being completed before the summonses came on for hearing. In one case, the preliminary order of Court not having been obeyed, a Decree for fifteen pounds was obtained, but the Warrants were returned by the Police, neither the contractor nor his sureties having any effects to seize. In the remaining cases the work was satisfactorily completed within the time allowed. The costs allowed by the Magistrates were, in some cases, not quite sufficient to cover all the expenses incurred, but Mr. Rogers has agreed to accept the costs awarded in settlement of his claim, so that these prosecutions were carried on without any cost whatever to the County.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT, SPRING ASSIZES 1887.

For other cases of neglect, I have to recommend that stoppages be made from fifty-two contractors, amounting to £115, to be represented to the credit of the respective Baronies.

Contractors are bound to have all materials ready for measurement on October 1st in each year. If this rule become relaxed, so that measurements should be made from time to time at contractors' convenience, it is easy to see that the measurements would be of little value. I therefore propose that summonses should be at once applied for against all contractors who are short in quantity on October 1st in each year.

In July last, I found that Giles' Quay was in a dangerous condition. The toe of the Sea Wall was cut away about two feet deep, for a length of two hundred feet, and some concrete blocks had been shaken loose; also there were a number of dangerous obstructions in the fair way of the Harbour. The necessary repairs were effected at a cost of £58 17s. 1d. The work in the Harbour, once done, will not require to be repeated; but I fear that the Sea Wall will require further repairs from time to time, as it is being constantly abraded by a shingle washed along it by the waves.

Mr. Grant, one of my Assistants, having resigned, I have appointed my brother, F. J. Lynam, C.E., in his place, and I now ask you to confirm the appointment.

Complaints having been made to me on the subject, I beg that you will consider whether my Assistants ought to attend Adjourned Sessions.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT, SPRING ASSIZES 1887.

In October last, the contractor for the Dundalk Electric Light having applied to me for permission to put up an overhead electric line along the Castletown Road, I informed him that a County Surveyor has no power to give such permission, the express consent of the Grand Jury being required. Anticipating your consent, the contractor then put up the line at his own risk, and as the work was done in a tolerably substantial manner, I took no proceedings against him. The line has since been removed.

From some recent returns, it appears that in the year 1885, there were in Ireland 51,182 miles of roads maintained under the Grand Jury system, at a cost of £596,674 per annum. The average cost being £11 13s. 2d. per mile. No other County can shew equal results for the same expenditure.

The cost of maintaining roads in this County must always exceed the average mentioned above, owing to heavy traffic, and to the very inferior nature of the materials available for repairs. There can be no doubt, however, that if contractors who work well could be paid for their work up to date at each Assizes, they would tender at lower rates. My predecessor, Mr. Neville, frequently referred to this subject in his Reports at Assizes, and so long ago as 1846, he estimated that if some arrangements could be made to pay contractors in this way, they could afford to tender at rates twenty-five per Cent lower.

I am, Gentleman,

Your obedient Servant,

P. J. LYMAN.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT,

COLONEL SIR JOHN ROBINSON AND GENTLEMEN,

Twenty-nine Maintenance Contracts expire at this Assizes. The Sums allowed by the Special Sessions for these works amounted to £1,819 15s. 2d., which was cut down by competition at Adjourned Sessions to £1,224 10s. 8d. At Summer Assizes, 1882, the sums allowed for the same works amounted to £1,280 2s. 6d., [which was cut down by competition to £1,240 1s. 1d. These figures show that the Special Sessions (particularly in Ferrard Barony) have been to a slight extent more liberal than formerly, but notwithstanding this (owing to increased competition) the new Contracts shew a slightly reduced cost of maintenance.

The Special Presentments include £268 for Hill Cuttings (No. 10, Ardee, and No. 8, Louth Barony), and £60 for Fencing a Road (No. 12, Ardee Barony). These are works of a useful and permanent nature, but it is my duty to call your attention to two works which in my opinion ought to be rejected.

The Culvert in Townparks (No. 11, Ardee Barony) is admittedly not required so far as the road is concerned. It is intended to relieve the adjoining lands from floods, but even for this purpose it cannot be shewn that the Culvert would be of any use.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT, SUMMER ASSIZES 1887.

No. 8, Ferrard Barony, £55 per annum for five years (£275 in all) is for the maintenance of a road along the sea shore, from Reynoldstown to Seafield. About 600 yards in length of this road is exposed to the action of the sea, and was formerly protected by sea walls of stone. The walls have been undermined and washed away, only a trace being left, and the sea is steadily encroaching every year. Some timber protecting walls have lately been built, but they extend over only one-half of the exposed length, and are of a very temporary and inefficient character, the waves washing through and over them in storms. If the road is to be kept open substantial sea walls must be built, at a cost of about £300, and the road can then be maintained for Ten Pounds per annum until the walls are destroyed by the sea. In my opinion the amount of traffic does not justify such an expenditure and the road ought to be abandoned.

The account for works in my charge is annexed.

Continued dry weather has had a very bad effect on gravel roads along the coast, some of which shew signs of breaking up. The majority of Contractors have worked well, and the cases in which fines will be necessary are not numerous.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

P. J. LYNAM.
