COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

To the Grand Jury of the County of Louth, assembled
at Spring Assizes, 1868.

GENTLEMEN,

The expenditure on County Works during the past year was £10231 16s. 4d. and that of the previous year £10584 4s. 11d. The expenditure for the maintenance and repairs alone of roads was £9097 7s. 7d., that for the preceding year, £9552 6s. 5d., showing a reduction under this head of £454 18s. 10d. If the past year were compared with 1865 the reduction of expenditure would be £1177. The separate items under each head of expenditure in each Barony are given in the accompanying tables. I have, however extended the information heretofore contained in these tables by giving now, for the first time, the number of miles of road in each Barony maintained by presentments, for each thousand acres. This varies from 3.33 miles in Upper Dundalk to 1.38 mile in the Barony of Drogheda. The average cost per mile varies from £11.34 the least in the Barony of Lower Dundalk; to £23.2 the greatest in the Barony of Upper Dundalk; a comparison of items in the tables will give an approximate measure of the mean traffic in each Barony.

The County roads have been generally kept in good order during the past year. There are still, however, about half-a-dozen road contractors who give a great deal of trouble, and these are as is usual, the most dissatisfied.

I find the work of the office, for about two months, the time of Road Sessions in Spring and Winter, rendered extremely heavy by the contractors neglecting to send in their applications for Certificates until the last moment. There is nothing that I can see to prevent road contractors applying for my certificate immediately after each Assizes on maintenance contracts for the year then expired; and as these constitute far the greater portion of applications for payments at the ensuing road sessions, the labor of going through the reports on past work, at a time when current work presses most, would be rendered thereby less oppressive.

Three applications for widening roads in the Town of Dundalk were made at Road Sessions by me, at the request of the presiding Justice and Cess-payers; when called over, I shall refer especially to them.

The report and plans for a bridge at the Obelisk over the River Boyne, will be laid before you. The subject received long consideration from the Engineers appointed by the Lord Lieutenant to report upon it, and the plan adopted for a lattice-beam bridge was one which, under all the circumstances appeared best. The design is substantially that which I submitted at last Assizes to some of the Grand Jurors.

I must again most respectfully call your attention to the great want of accommodation in my office. On some days certificates are issued to contractors for advances to the extent of £750. Yet I am unable to converse privately with any of them, or with Cess-payers or Grand Jurors when they have occasion to see me.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

To the Grand Jury of the County of Louth.

GENTLEMEN,

The roads under contract for maintenance, and the Bridges through the County, are in good repair generally. On a few roads the late dry weather has caused some disintegration of portions of the surface. This is a natural consequence at this season, particularly on roads repaired with sea gravel; altogether the roads of the County are in very good order, and the cases referred to are exceptional.

Since last Assizes the three entrances to Dundalk, from the Railway station, from Castletown, and from Forkhill, were widened and much improved.

The road contractors have in general, and with only a few exceptions, worked well for some years past. A healthy system of competition has been of service to all parties. Judging, however, from the Schedule now before you, I fear the very unpleasant duty of having to refuse certificates again on a large scale will be too heavily imposed on me.

There are some matters connected with a road Contractor in the Barony of Upper Dundalk which I wish to take your directions upon.

The Committee appointed for this County and for the County of Meath contracted for erecting the proposed lattice-girder-bridge over the river Boyne at King William's glen for the sum of £2540. The firm of Grendon and Company, Drogheda, are the contractors, and I have no doubt will finish the work to the satisfaction of the public. The distance between the abutments is to be 120 feet; the girders of a single span of 128 feet, and the width of roadway sixteen feet.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.

JOHN NEVILLE,
County Surveyor of Louth.

Spring Assizes, 1869.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

To the Grand Jury of the County of Louth, Assembled
at Spring Assizes, 1869.

GENTLEMEN,

The sum presented for County works during the past year was £12,512 ; and 588 miles of roads were repaired and maintained at an expenditure of £8,448. The corresponding numbers in the previous year were 570 miles, at a cost of £9097. This shows a reduction of £640 under the head of repairs and maintenance, notwithstanding an increase of 18 miles in the mileage. These roads have been well maintained by the contractors, with very few exceptions. I attach hereto the usual yearly statistics of the expenditure on the different sorts of works in each Barony.

The Messrs. Grendon & Co., Drogheda, the contractors for erecting the lattice-girder-bridge over the river Boyne, at King William's Glen, opened it to the public in October last ; about three months after their contract was entered into. This is a very unusual but a very satisfactory statement to make. The bridge is 124 feet clear span between the abutments. The full test provided by the specification has, however, not been applied, but a very satisfactory result was obtained on the 20th instant with a smaller one. The masonry in connexion with the girders and some smaller works are yet unfinished.

The storm and unusually high tides at the end of January did some injury along the coast roads, but the amount required for repairs will not be very large. Two Magistrates' orders were obtained immediately after for the cases most requiring attention.

I shall report separately on the applications in the Schedule, as they are called out.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.

February, 1869.

GENTLEMEN,

The new works on the Schedule do not require any special reference. They are of the usual kind, and as they are read out I shall report, where necessary, upon them.
